” Now we also have clean air in our office and a healthy workplace for all our staff. ”

We have seen the benefits of air purification and there are plenty of reasons to clean the air in our premises. The most important one for us is being able to offer our staff a healthy work environment and ensuring a clean and healthy warehouse and terminal environment for our customers' products.

the best set-up for us. Njord are great to work with, we are happy with how the unit is performing and with how smooth and easy servicing is - it's usually very quick and doesn't interfere with our warehouse operations.

A few years ago, we decided to install Njord's air purification system in our logistics terminal in Årsta. During the procurement process, we compared a few different suppliers and quickly came to the conclusion that Njord clearly had

When it was time to return to the office after the pandemic, we decided to install Njord's air purifiers for offices. We had them fitted with UV-C which ensures that the air is free from viruses and bacteria. So now we also have clean air in our office and a healthy workplace for all our staff.
